BEAVER STADIUM

Home of the Nittany Lions

Penn State, which played its home games from 1909 through 1959 in 30,000-capacity Beaver Field on center campus, moved into the present all-steel stadium in 1960. The original capacity of Beaver Stadium was 46,284. An additional 2,060 seats, added in 1969, pushed the total seating to 48,344. The addition of 9,194 seats in 1972 brought the capacity to 57,538. New end zone bleachers last year boosted the capacity to 57,723.

Beaver Stadium is a unique combination of something old and something new. The old stadium was dismantled after the 1959 season and moved in 700 pieces a mile to the new east campus location. It was reassembled beneath the new superstructure — and now towers 80 rows high on the west side and 90 rows high on the east side from goal line to goal line. The closed end of the horseshoe is 40 rows high.

Steel men say Beaver Stadium is the largest all-steel stadium in the country and probably in the world. There are 55,243 permanent seats (43,989 between the goal lines) and room for 2,480 temporary bleacher seats in the open end of the horseshoe. The stadium is named for General James A. Beaver, a former Pennsylvania governor who served for many years as president of the Penn State Board of Trustees.

LEGEND OF THE NITTANY LION

Penn State's athletic symbol, chosen by the student body in 1906, is a mountain lion once said to have roamed the central Pennsylvania mountains. Because Penn State is located in the Nittany Valley at the foot of Mt. Nittany, the lion was designated as a Nittany Lion. Nittany evolved from the word Nita-Nee, which was the favorite cognomen for Indian maidens. Legend tells us that one Nita-Nee, the daughter of Chief O-Ko-Cho who lived near the mouth of Penn's Cave, fell in love with a trader named Malachi Boyer. For this, Boyer was imprisoned and forced to die in Penn's Cave. The tearful maiden and her lost lover became legend and her name now graces the stately mountain and the athletic teams of Penn State.

The Season Outlook

"This is a young squad that probably will have to struggle, but it is a squad that should get to be pretty good before the season is over."

That's coach Joe Paterno's capsule evaluation of his Penn State football team's prospects for 1975.

Paterno qualifies as something of an expert when it comes to evaluating football teams. The Nittany Lion coach has the best winning percentage (.847) among the nation's major college coaches with a nine-year record of 85 wins, 15 losses and a tie. Five of those victories and the tie have come in bowl games.

Paterno refuses to call the 1975 schedule the toughest his team has faced; but the list of opponents — Temple, Stanford, Ohio State, Iowa, Kentucky, West Virginia, Syracuse, Army, Maryland, North Carolina State and Pittsburgh — is an impressive one.

The Lions will meet that schedule with a squad long on potential, but short on experience. The emphasis on youth is particularly evident on the offensive unit, which could have eight underclassmen in the starting lineup.

The chief losses on offense from last year's team were rifle-armed quarterback Tom Shuman, fullback Tom Donchez, split end Jim Eaise and tight end Dan Natale.

The quarterback situation developed into a two-man battle between John Andress and John Carroll during spring practice and Paterno feels he will have a competent quarterback no matter who wins the job.

"Andress and Carroll are both poised, intelligent athletes," the Lion coach says. "Our problem is inexperience. There is no question about the potential."

Battle at Fullback

The fullback position also has become a two-man battleground. Juniors Larry Suhey and Duane Taylor both played well in spring practice and enter the fall as the top two candidates to replace Donchez, who led the team in rushing and scoring and tied for the team lead in pass receiving last year.

Dave Stutts, a running back most of last year as a sophomore, had a strong spring performance and ranks as the top contender for Natale's tight end job. Sophomore Mickey Shuler also is a possibility at tight end.

That leaves split end as the main question mark.

"We did not come out of spring practice with a split end," Paterno says. "We have some potential, but nobody really came to the front."

The interior line, flanker and tailback appear to be the most solid areas for the offense.

"The offensive line looks good if the center position solidifies," Paterno says. "Tom Rafferty could be one of the best offensive linemen in the country at guard and Mark Thomas has played well at the other guard. Brad Benson and George Reihner are both people with size and experience at tackle. We do need some people to come through for depth."

The top candidates for the center job are seniors Rick Knechtel and Rich Caravella and juniors Ron Argenta and Dave Shukri. Knechtel was the number one center for most of spring practice. Shukri, the largest man on the roster at 6-5 and 270 pounds, missed spring practice with a leg injury.

Rafferty, the offensive captain, is one of the team's top candidates for All-America honors. He was a regular all of last season. Benson earned a starting job at tackle for the last three games last year. Reihner and Thomas alternated at a guard spot last year, but will be playing side-by-side this season.

Flanker is the domain of sophomore Jimmy Cefalo, who moved into the regular lineup for the last three games of his freshman season. Cefalo ranked third on the team in rushing last year despite his limited use. He carried 53 times for 328 yards, an average of 6.2 yards per attempt. His memorable Cotton Bowl performance included 55 yards rushing, 102 yards on three receptions and two touchdowns.

The tailback job appears to be in good hands with Woody Petchel, Rusty Boyle and Neil Hutton all returning for another season.

"We have a good, solid group of running backs," Paterno says. "We may not have a John Cappelletti, Franco Harris or Lydell Mitchell; but we have a good situation there."

Position Changes

Defensively, there are more experienced players available, but some of that experience has been gained at other positions.

Lettermen and possible starters Kurt Allerman, Ron Coder, Ron Crosby, Jeff Hite, Mike Johnson, Jim Rosecrans and Randy Sidler are all playing new positions.

Coder's switch from offensive guard to defensive tackle is one of the more important changes Paterno made during spring practice. The Lion coaches are counting on Coder to replace All-American Mike Hartenstine.

Crosby, a linebacker last year, looms as the probable replacement for graduated Greg Murphy at defensive end. The other end could be either Dennis Zmudzin or Allerman, another converted linebacker.

John Quinn, a steady performer despite his lack of size (6-2½, 226), returns as the other defensive tackle.

"I'm concerned about our inexperience and lack of size on the defensive line," Paterno says.

Paterno also is concerned about finding replacements for the top four outside linebackers, all lost to graduation.

Rosecrans, a two-year letterman at inside linebacker, has been moved outside; and Hite, another two-year letter-winner, has been shifted to an outside linebacker spot from defensive halfback. Sidler, a tight end last year as a freshman, and junior Ron Hostetler are also candidates for starting jobs.

The inside linebacker situation is much more settled.

Greg Buttle, who led the team in tackles, interceptions and fumble recoveries last year, is set at one position. Rich Kriston moved into the lineup for the final game of the regular season and performed very well against Pitt and in the win over Baylor in the Cotton Bowl. He is set at the other inside linebacker spot after a strong spring practice showing.

Buttle and Quinn are the defensive captains.

"Our linebacker situation could be good," Paterno says. "The inside linebackers look strong, but we have to develop some depth behind Buttle and Kriston. The outside linebacker situation is questionable because of the inexperience."

The defensive secondary is a strong suit.

Johnson made the switch from safety to halfback very well in the spring and teams with returning starter Tom Odell to give the Lions two solid cornermen. Veteran Tom Giotto is the leading candidate for the safety job, but he is being pressed by Gary Petercuskie, who saw some action as a freshman last year.

Chris Bahr, a three-time All-American soccer player, gives the Lions one of the nation's best place-kickers.

The overall picture is one of a typical Paterno team — an aggressive, quick, hard-hitting team that will get better as the season progresses.

The Coaches

Joe Paterno

Head Football Coach
The Pennsylvania State University

Joe Paterno is the "winningest" college football coach in the country.

Paterno's nine-year record of 85 wins, 15 losses and a tie gives him a winning percentage of .847, tops among major college coaches with at least five years as a head coach.

Penn State's football team has been ranked in the Top Ten in seven of Paterno's nine years and the Nittany Lions have been among the top five teams in the country four of the last seven seasons.

Paterno coached Penn State to 23 straight wins and 31 consecutive games without a defeat, two of the longest streaks in college football history. The Lions also have had 15, 12 and 10-game win streaks under Paterno's direction.

Penn State has gone to seven major bowl games in Paterno's nine years. The Lions were tied by Florida State in the 1967 Gator Bowl, won back-to-back Orange Bowl titles over Kansas and Missouri in 1969 and 1970, posted a 30-6 victory over Texas in the 1972 Cotton Bowl, knocked off LSU in the 1974 Orange Bowl and defeated Baylor in the 1975 Cotton Bowl.

Awards and honors have accumulated almost as fast as victories. Paterno was national Coach of the Year in 1968 and has been named Eastern Coach of the Year four times. He joined the likes of Stan Musial, Arnold Palmer and Robin Roberts as recipients of the Pennsylvania Award for Excellence in Athletics.

Awards this year included an honorary doctor of laws degree from his alma mater, Brown University, and the Liberty Bell Award from the Young Lawyers' Section of the Pennsylvania Bar Association. The Liberty Bell Award is given in recognition of "outstanding community service which strengthens the effectiveness of the American system of freedom under law."

Paterno is a member of the National Board of Directors of the Multiple Sclerosis Society, was the state chairman of the American Cancer Society in 1973 and served as state chairman of the Easter Seal Society last year.

He was a member of Governor Milton Shapp's Commission on Basic Education and has been active in recent years in fund-raising efforts for the Boy Scouts of America.

He also is a member of the National Advisory Council for the "No Greater Love" program, an organization which provides nationwide programs to benefit hospitalized veterans and the children of servicemen killed or missing in Southeast Asia.

Paterno has come quite a distance since 1949 when he was a skinny-legged quarterback at Brown whose play caused the late Stanley Woodward to write:

"He can't run and he can't pass. All he can do is think and win."

At Brown, he quarterbacked two of Rip Engle's best teams (7-2 in '48 and 8-1 in '49) and also played varsity basketball.

Paterno, however, almost missed his calling following his graduation from Brown in 1950 with a degree in English literature.

"I had planned a career in law, or perhaps even politics," Paterno explains, "until Rip told me he had taken the Penn State job and asked if I would go along and coach the offensive backs."

That was 25 years ago.

Paterno has had numerous offers from other schools and professional organizations during his 16 years as an assistant and his nine years as head coach at Penn State. The offers have become more attractive as his record and reputation have grown.

But Paterno has stayed at Penn State. He told some of the reasons why when he turned down a lucrative offer from the New England Patriots in 1973:

"When I analyzed the situation here at Penn State, I realized that I've always hoped I could work in an atmosphere on a campus where the approach by the administration towards athletics was such that I could be a little more than just a football coach. And that's what Penn State has allowed me to be. I'm not just a football coach and a businessman. Because of Penn State's approach to athletics — within the entire framework of the University — I have had an opportunity to work with young people and have an influence on their lives. I think that was an overriding factor in my decision: the fact that this is such a healthy atmosphere."

And:

"We really love Pennsylvania . . . everybody has always been warm and sincere and gracious to me and I really feel as if I would be leaving a family that had been wonderful to me."

And:

"Then the third reason why I decided to stay was the challenge that's still here at Penn State . . . I've said many times I've had a dream that Penn State would be number one in everything . . . and I feel that I can still make some sort of a contribution to some of those goals. The challenge of that is what kept me."

"I suppose if I summed it up: Penn State is too good a place to leave."

Paterno's love of Penn State developed early in his coaching career.

"I grew to love Penn State so much that after two or three years with Rip I dreamed about nothing other than becoming its head coach someday. It's the only job I ever really wanted in coaching."

The chance to be head coach came in 1966 when Paterno replaced the retiring Engle. During 16 years as Engle's assistant he achieved national recognition for his development of quarterbacks such as All-American Richie Lucas, Milt Plum, Al Jacks, Tony Rados, Dick Hoak, Galen Hall, and Pete Liske.

Paterno also senses his place in Penn State's football history.

"We are all part of a great tradition. We have a great responsibility to carry on this tradition."

Paterno, who brings to coaching qualities of intellect and integrity, likes to talk about football at Penn State as the "Grand Experiment."

"We want our players to enjoy football," he says. "We want them to enjoy college. We want them to learn about art and literature and music and all the other things college has to offer. College should be a great time. It is the only time a person is really free. We don't want them just tied to a football program."

And that's the way Paterno recruits. There are no wild promises or empty guarantees. There is no red-shirting or lowering of admission standards. It's made clear early in a player's career that education and academic scholarship are paramount.

This experiment is Paterno's dream of being able to build great football teams without making concessions in vital areas of academic quality.

Born in Brooklyn Dec. 21, 1926, Paterno attended Brooklyn Preparatory School (Class of '45), where he played in the same backfield with his brother George, now coach at Kings Point. Joe and George also teamed up at Brown.

Joe married the former Suzanne Pohland of Latrobe, Pa., in 1962. She's a Penn State graduate, Class of 1962. They have two daughters, Diane Lynne (born 4-7-63) and Mary Kathryn (b. 1-13-65) and three sons, David (b. 7-1-66), Joseph Jr. (b. 10-21-68) and George Scott (b. 11-1-72).

Jim O'Hora

Assistant Head Coach

Penn State '36

Begins 30th Season on Staff

Jim O'Hora, an assistant on the Penn State football staff for 29 years, was named assistant head coach by Nittany Lion coach Joe Paterno last year.

"There were two main reasons for the title change," Paterno said. "It recognizes Jim's position of responsibility on the staff and its recognizes the many contributions he has made to Penn State football during the past 29 years."

O'Hora has been a line coach for most of his time at Penn State under four head coaches — Bob Higgins, Joe Bedenk, Rip Engle and Paterno. Many of his former interior linemen earned all-star recognition and several are stars in the pro ranks. Among the players he has coached are All-Americans Glenn Ressler, Mike Reid, Randy Crowder and Mike Hartenstine.

A native of Dunmore, Pa., O'Hora first came to Penn State as a freshman in 1932. He played center under Higgins, earning varsity letters in 1933, 1934 and 1935.

He began his coaching career immediately after graduation in 1936, returning to his alma mater to earn his master's degree in physical education and serve as a graduate assistant with the freshman football team.

He became head football and baseball coach at Roaring Spring (Pa.) High School in 1937. He moved to Mahanoy Township (Pa.) High School in 1939, serving as head football, baseball and basketball coach.

His coaching career was interrupted by the Second World War. He served in the Navy from 1942 until 1945, commanding a landing force ship in the Luzon campaign as a lieutenant.

He returned to Mahanoy Township for one year before joining the Penn State staff in 1946.

O'Hora is married to the former Elizabeth (Bets) Miller of Park Place, Pa. They have four children.

White, who earned letters from both Ohio State and Michigan, played center on the unbeaten, untied 1947 Michigan team which won the national championship and defeated Southern California in the Rose Bowl. Later, as a member of the Michigan coaching staff, he worked with the middle linemen and linebackers, and also did extensive scouting.

White, who reported to Penn State for spring drills in '54, played at Ohio State as a freshman and sophomore and then, after three years in the Army, resumed his education at Michigan. He played on the 1946 team which lost only to Illinois, then won wide-spread attention as center on the unbeaten Rose Bowl eleven. His brother, Paul, was halfback and captain of the 1943 Michigan team.

He owns a Master of Education degree from his alma mater, where he coached while studying.

He was born in Georgia, but spent his boyhood in River Rouge, Mich., where he was a schoolboy standout in football, basketball, and baseball. He married the former Verna McQueen, a native of England (although she grew up in River Rouge), in 1944 and they have one son.

Head Trainer

Chuck Medlar, head trainer for all Penn State athletic teams, is recognized as one of the nation's foremost athletic trainers.

He was head trainer of the United States team in the 1968 Olympic Games in Mexico City after serving on the training staff of the U.S. team for the 1964 Olympics in Tokyo.

A former director of the board of the National Athletic Trainers Association (NATA), he is presently chairman of that group's International Games Committee, representing the organization on the U.S. Olympic Committee. He has served on numerous other NATA committees.

In 1971 the Lion trainer received two of the top honors of his profession. He was given a 25-year service award by NATA and was cited by the Helms Athletic Foundation Hall of Fame "for noteworthy achievement in athletic training."

Medlar also is one of the nation's most successful baseball coaches. In 12 years as head coach, he has directed the Lions to 205 wins against just 97 defeats and four ties. Eight of his teams — 1963, 1967, 1970, 1971, 1972, 1973, 1974 and 1975 — have earned berths in the National Collegiate Athletic Association playoffs. The 1963 and 1973 teams won the district playoffs and competed in the College World Series in Omaha, Neb.

He served as second vice president of the American Association of College Baseball Coaches before resigning for health reasons.

A 1946 graduate of Penn State, Medlar attended Allentown (Pa.) High School where he earned letters in football, basketball and baseball. Following a year at Pennington (N.J.) Prep, he entered Penn State in 1938 and competed in football, basketball and baseball as a tackle, center and pitcher, respectively.

He left college in 1941 to play professional baseball with Beaumont (Texas League) as property of the Detroit Tigers and in 1942 moved to Buffalo of the International League.

He entered the Navy in December, 1942, serving overseas at Pearl Harbor and Midway as a chief petty officer. Discharged in 1946, he rejoined Buffalo only to have his professional career ended because of a sore arm. He returned to Penn State in September, 1946, as assistant to trainer Jack Hulme and to complete his studies.

When Hulme died that same year, Medlar who had assisted him in 1940 after a knee injury forced him out of football, succeeded him as trainer and in 1948 was appointed to the physical education faculty.

PENN STATE 41, BAYLOR 20

Jan. 1, 1975

Dallas, Texas

Penn State boosted its overall bowl record to eight wins, three losses and two ties with a record-setting 41-20 victory over Southwest Conference champion Baylor before 67,500 fans at the Cotton Bowl.

Coach Joe Paterno's Nittany Lions came from behind for the fifth time in ten victories, erasing a 7-3 halftime deficit with a 38-point second half explosion for a Cotton Bowl scoring record of 41 points.

It was the fourth time in seven bowl games under Paterno that the Lions had come back to win. Other come-from-behind bowl victories were scored against Kansas in the 1969 Orange Bowl, Texas in the 1972 Cotton Bowl and LSU in the 1974 Orange Bowl.

Quarterback Tom Shuman and fullback Tom Donchez, the mainstays of the Lion offense all season, led the record-breaking efforts in the Cotton Bowl.

Shuman completed 10 of his 20 passes for 226 yards and a touchdown and added 14 yards and another score on the ground. Donchez carried 25 times for 116 yards and a touchdown and caught four passes for 50 yards.

Freshman Jimmy Cefalo also contributed greatly to the victory — rushing for 55 yards, catching three passes for 102 yards and scoring two touchdowns.

Baylor opened the scoring in the first period, driving 84 yards for a touchdown with the help of three penalties against Penn State. Chris Bahr, who had missed a 30-yard field goal attempt in the first quarter, hit a 25-yarder late in the second period to narrow Baylor's halftime lead to 7-3.

Penn State took the lead early in the second half on a nine-play, 80-yard drive dominated by Donchez. The senior fullback carried seven times, banging in for the score from one yard out to give the Lions a 10-7 lead.

A 64-yard Shuman-to-Donchez scoring play midway through the third quarter was called back by a penalty and Baylor responded to the opportunity with a 35-yard scoring pass that was tipped into the hands of the receiver, giving the Bears a 14-10 lead.

The aroused Lions regained the lead in 55 seconds, the score coming on a 49-yard bomb from Shuman to Cefalo. The third quarter ended with Penn State holding a 17-14 edge.

Three straight Penn State scores — a three-yard run by Cefalo, a 33-yard field goal by Bahr and a two-yard run by Shuman — gave the Lions an insurmountable 34-14 lead.

Baylor scored with 19 seconds left in the game to cut the Lion lead to 34-20, but Penn State's Joe Jackson returned the ensuing onside kick 50 yards for a touchdown to boost the final score to Penn State 41, Baylor 20.

HEISMAN TROPHY

John Cappelletti, tailback on Penn State's unbeaten and untied 1973 football team, is the only Nittany Lion ever to win the Heisman Trophy.

Cappelletti, now a running back with the Los Angeles Rams, received the coveted award and dedicated it to his younger brother Joey, a leukemia victim, in a moving acceptance speech in December, 1973.

The Heisman Memorial Trophy is awarded annually by the Downtown Athletic Club of New York City to "the outstanding intercollegiate football player in the United States."

Originally the D.A.C. Trophy, it was renamed after the death of John W. Heisman, then Director of Athletics at the Downtown Athletic Club, in October, 1936. Heisman had been a top-ranking coach at Auburn, Clemson, Georgia Tech, Penn, Rice and Washington and Jefferson, among other colleges.

MAXWELL AWARD

Four Penn State players have been honored as recipients of the Maxwell Award.

John Cappelletti, tailback on the 1973 Penn State team, is the most recent Nittany Lion recipient. He was preceded by Rich Lucas, quarterback, 1959; Glenn Ressler, center and guard, 1964; and Mike Reid, defensive tackle, 1969.

The Maxwell Award is named in honor of Robert W. "Tiny" Maxwell, who was an All-American guard at Chicago and Swarthmore, an outstanding professional player and a famous coach in addition to being a newspaper city editor and sportswriter in the 37 years he lived prior to his death in an automobile accident.

RED WORRELL AWARD

Dave Stutts of Mifflintown, Pa., was the 1975 winner of the Red Worrell Award.

Stutts, a 6-1, 217-pound tight end, received the award at halftime of the annual Blue-White Game at Beaver Stadium. The Blue-White Game marks the end of Penn State's spring football practice.

The award is given annually "for exemplary conduct, loyalty, interest, attitude and improvement" during spring practice. The award is named in honor of 1957 freshman fullback Robert T. (Red) Worrell, who was electrocuted at his home in Denbo in December, 1957.

EDITOR'S NOTE:

The list of all-time Penn State football lettermen includes every varsity letter-winner since the sport was officially started at Penn State in 1887.

The Nittany Lions have had 35 players earn four football letters, five men win five letters and one player achieve the unusual distinction of being a six-time letterman. The longevity award goes to L. R. Scholl, who won varsity letters in 1896, 1897, 1898, 1899, 1900 and 1901.

The list of five-time lettermen includes Charles M. Atherton (1890-94), H. P. Dowler (1889-93), R. A. "Bob" Higgins (1914-19), C. C. Hildebrand (1887-91) and J. S. Rumble (1896-1900).

Penn State's '10 Greatest Victories'

EDITOR'S NOTE: Ridge Riley was Penn State's first sports information director and for many years was executive secretary of the Penn State Alumni Association.

He has written the Penn State Football Letter for Nittany Lion alumni for 37 seasons and is generally recognized as the greatest source of information on Penn State football.

He is putting that knowledge to good use, writing a book on Penn State football, which will be published by Doubleday in August, 1976. He also remains active at his alma mater as a member of the Penn State Board of Trustees.

As the ranking expert on Penn State football, Ridge was a logical choice of the editor to select Penn State's 10 greatest victories.

By RIDGE RILEY

Some kind of midsummer madness must be involved to induce anyone to make a selection of the 10 greatest games played by Penn State football teams from the 778 contested since 1887. But it's no worse than picking All-Star teams or naming the Top 10 in August. The All-pickers have one thing in common—they never agree.

Even for one steeped in Penn State football history, this selection is a touchy task. "Greatest victories" rules out the spectacular ties with Harvard in 1914 and 1921 when the Lions weren't given much chance of upsetting two of the Crimson's best, and it eliminates the stunning performance of the 1959 eleven, which came within one or two extra points of tying or defeating Syracuse's national championship team.

Achievements of the earliest teams should be remembered as steps in establishing Penn State among great Eastern elevens. The Lions were always ready to tackle the "big ones" any time, any place — holding Navy and Cornell to ties as early as 1894 and 1895, defeating Army in 1899, winning from Navy three times from 1901 to 1903, and holding Yale to a 10-0 victory in 1906 (a game that made Mother Dunn Penn State's first All-American).

These choices of significant Penn State games resulted from personal evaluations — and maybe a little bit of sentiment.

"Shorty" Miller scored two touchdowns in Penn State's 22-6 victory over Penn in 1911.

Glenn Killinger's brilliant performance in the Lions' 28-7 victory over Georgia Tech in 1921 helped him win a spot on Walter Camp's All-America squad that year.

Penn State 22, Pennsylvania 6

The first victory in 18 games over Penn State's great city rival was the beginning of many unexpected triumphs on Franklin Field. Eugene E. (Shorty) Miller, recently elected to the Hall of Fame, sent Lion fans into orbit by running the opening kickoff 95 yards for a score (the field was 110 yards long), and scoring again a few minutes later on a 32-yard sprint. Then Dex Very snatched Pete Mauthe's punt almost out of the hands of its intended receiver, Roy Mercer, and covered 70 yards in a flash. Penn State added a safety before the quarter ended to lead 20-0 (touchdowns counted five points). Local papers called it the greatest quarter in Penn State history.

Penn State 28, Georgia Tech 7

This was the first football game Penn State played in New York and against one of the glamour teams of the South. The Tech entourage came North with a fancy marching band and the only girl cheerleaders our people had ever seen. It also boasted one of the nation's finest running stars in Red Barron. The Golden Tornadoes scored first, but on the ensuing kickoff Glenn Killinger made the most thrilling run of his career, going 95 yards to even the score. Killinger was brilliant that day in displaying his exceptional skills and generalship, and earned a dressing room congratulatory visit from Walter Camp and a place on that gentleman's first team.

Penn State 10, Pittsburgh 0

Alumni had come to think it would never happen, but it did, on Nov. 25, 1939—Penn State beat Pittsburgh for the first time in 20 years. A touchdown by Bill Smaltz in the first quarter and a field goal by John R. Patrick of Central City, four minutes from the end, accomplished the deed as the Lions completely throttled the Pitt running stars, "Special Delivery" Jones and Dick Cassiano, and became the only team that season to hold the Panthers scoreless.

Fran Rogel was more noted for his power runs (Hi Diddle Diddle, Rogel Up the Middle); but his two break-away touchdowns gave Penn State a 13-0 win over Penn in Franklin Field in 1948.

Lenny Moore helped Penn State record two of its greatest wins: a 14-12 decision over Illinois in 1954 and a 21-20 victory over Syracuse the following season.

Penn State 13, Pennsylvania 0

Probably no Penn State game prior to this had such a tremendous buildup. Coach Bob Higgins' team hadn't lost since the final games in 1946 (13-0-2 streak). Penn had a non-losing streak of 14 which included a tie with Army. Over 80,000 fans packed Franklin Field and watched a stocky, hard-driving fullback, Francis Rogel—who was supposed to be the short-yardage type—run like a deer for two sensational touchdowns. On a fullback spinner, he shook off Chuck Bednarik, and went 44 yards for the first score. Late in the game he nabbed a pass from Elwood Petchel, making an impossible catch in the end zone. That night our students tore the insides out of the old Bellevue-Stratford.

Penn State 14, Illinois 12

One of Coach Rip Engle's most impressive early games, this was the first victory in Big Ten country in many seasons. In their opening game, the Lions were given no chance against the Illini, ranked among the Midwest's finest teams, with the "nation's fastest backfield." It was led by J. C. Caroline, but State had Lenny Moore, who gained 117 yards more than the combined total of the Illini speedsters, Caroline and Abe Woodson.

Penn State 21, Syracuse 20

Penn State's Centennial year had a somewhat disappointing football season, but this breathtaking duel between Lenny Moore and Jim Brown almost made up for the home defeats by Navy and Pitt. Although the personal matchup of Moore and Brown was declared a draw, Syracuse lost the game when Brown's second extra-point try was blocked. Coming back from a 13-point deficit, Penn State won the game in the last five minutes with an 80-yard drive. Milt Plum, who kicked all three extra points, also scored the winning touchdown.

Dave Robinson (89) and Roger Kochman were two of the standouts in Penn State's 30-15 victory over Georgia Tech in the 1961 Gator Bowl. Robinson was the leading receiver for the Lions with four catches and also made the most spectacular defensive play of the game, causing a fumble that led directly to a Penn State touchdown. Kochman was the rushing leader with 78 yards.

1961 Gator Bowl
Penn State 30, Georgia Tech 15

Penn State's first major bowl victory was won at the expense of Bowl-wise Bobby Dodd. Among the Lion stars, Quarterback Butch Hall deserves a Lion's share of the credit, for his letter-perfect execution. State survived a 9-0 deficit to go ahead 14-9 at halftime and the game was salted away in the third quarter on a Dave Robinson special. The great end vaulted over a defender, nailed the Tech passer, Stann Gann, and recovered the latter's fumble. On the next play, Hall passed to Junior Powell in the clear. Junior began his victory jig on the 10-yard line.

Penn State 27, Ohio State 0

Some may select the 7-6 upset of the Buckeyes in 1956, but the '64 shocker before 84,279 dazed Columbus fans, must go in the books as one of the most flawless football games ever played by a Lion team. Quarterback Gary Wydman was the magician who befuddled the Big Ten leaders. At the end of the first half, press box statistics for Ohio State read: first downs, 0; net yardage rushing, -14; passes completed, 0, and total plays, 16. Second half statistics were almost as preposterous.

Glenn Ressler, winner of the Maxwell Award, led a fired-up Penn State defense that shut out powerful Ohio State, 27-0, in 1964. Ressler also was a powerful blocker on offense against the Buckeyes.

Mike Reid, Outland Trophy and Maxwell Award winner, hauls down Kansas quarterback Bobby Douglass for a loss in the 1969 Orange Bowl. Reid's defensive heroics gave the Lions a chance to win, 15-14, in the closing seconds.

1969 Orange Bowl Penn State 15, Kansas 14

The first of Coach Joe Paterno's three Orange Bowl victories, this is on record for having the most dramatic finish of any bowl, any time. With two minutes to play Kansas had the ball and a 14-7 lead. Twice, big Mike Reid broke through, and the Jayhawks were forced to kick. When 1:28 remained, Chuck Burkhart completed a long pass to Bobby Campbell on the Kansas three. On third down, Burkhart scored—the first touchdown of his career. Then came a grounded pass for the two-point try, and Kansas fans swarmed all over the field, but swarmed off again because umpire Foster Grose, Jr. threw his flag. The notorious "Twelfth Man" defensive play Kansas used was declared illegal. With this reprieve, State won when Campbell crashed off left tackle and over the goal line.

All-American offensive tackle Dave Joyner congratulates Lydell Mitchell after the Lions' all-time rushing leader set a National Collegiate Athletic Association record with 29 touchdowns in 1971. Mitch was named the Outstanding Offensive Player in the Lions' 30-6 romp over Texas in the 1972 Cotton Bowl, rushing for 146 yards.

1972 Cotton Bowl
Penn State 30, Texas 6

How beautiful it is to win in Texas! This most convincing upset in Liondom was achieved in front of Lyndon Johnson, who spent an unhappy afternoon making the symbolic Longhorn gesture for the cameramen. Two years before, Richard Nixon had been in the Longhorn camp, but thereafter transferred his Southern strategy to Florida and the Miami Dolphins. Texas newspapermen couldn't remember when Coach Royal's team had been stopped without a touchdown (research proved it was 80 games). Lydell Mitchell outgained a back named Jim Bertelsen, 146 to 59.

The Pennsylvania State University

The Pennsylvania State University was chartered in 1855 as one of the pioneer institutions in a beginning national movement to offer higher education to all classes of society.

By 1862, when Abraham Lincoln signed the Land-Grant Act "to promote the liberal and practical education of the industrial classes," Penn State had already awarded its first Bachelor of Scientific Agriculture degrees. In 1863, it was designated as the land-grant college of Pennsylvania by the State Legislature.

From humble beginnings, the University has grown to be the 13th largest in the nation with a resident education enrollment of more than 55,000 and a faculty of 3,400.

The University, which has awarded more than 175,000 degrees, offers bachelor's degrees in 134 separate fields. Graduate programs are available in 125 fields.

A distinctive feature of Penn State is a system of 19 Commonwealth Campuses, strategically located throughout Pennsylvania to be within commuting range of residents in nearly every area of the State. Eighteen of the 19 branch campuses offer the first two years of baccalaureate degree work and all except Allentown and Capitol Campus offer terminal two-year associate degree programs in one or more areas of concentrated instruction to prepare graduates for specialized assignments in business and industry or give students a basic two-year education. The majority of the two-year students are enrolled in the 10 engineering technology majors.

Behrend College at Erie, in addition to two years of associate degree and baccalaureate degree programs, offers four years of work leading to the baccalaureate degree in certain majors and some graduate work at the master's degree level. Capital Campus at Middletown, near Harrisburg, offers only third- and fourth-year undergraduate programs and graduate work, also at the master's degree level. Master's degree programs are offered at the King of Prussia Graduate Center. Nearly two-thirds of the 12,200 entering freshmen begin their studies at branch campuses and transfer, usually at the end of the second year, to the University Park campus or Capitol Campus.

The College of Medicine, located at The Milton S. Hershey Medical Center in Hershey, was established in 1964 with a $50,000,000 allocation by the M. S. Hershey Foundation. The first class was graduated in 1971.

The Continuing Education programs of the University annually reach as many as 136,000 persons in nearly 300 communities of the state and present a wide variety of instructional offerings, including credit classes, unit courses, informal short courses, conferences and seminars. The Cooperative Extension Services maintain offices in each of the 67 counties of Pennsylvania and county agents during the past year provided assistance to nearly 1,000,000 persons. Meetings, farm and home visits, correspondence courses, 4-H Club supervision, and informational pamphlets, news releases, radio and television programs also are a part of their work.

The physical plant of the University comprises 15,917 acres and land, buildings, and equipment are valued at more than $465,551,000.

The University operates on an annual budget that exceeds $242 million. Thirty-six per cent of it comes from the state, including contracts with state departments; 15 per cent from the federal government; 21 per cent from tuition; 15 per cent from auxiliary earnings, and 13 per cent from miscellaneous sources.

Edward M. Czekaj

Ed Czekaj (pronounced CHECK-eye) is in his seventh year as Penn State's athletic director, but his service to the University goes back much further than that.

He has been in athletic administration for 23 years, and most of that experience was gained at Penn State under Ernest B. McCoy, the man who recommended that Czekaj move up to the top position in 1969.

As athletic director, Czekaj succeeded McCoy, dean of the College of Health, Physical Education and Recreation and director of athletics since 1952. McCoy continued to serve as dean of the College of Health and Physical Education and director of the Sports Research Institute until June 30, 1970.

Czekaj, 52 years old and a 1948 Penn State graduate, joined the Penn State staff in 1953 as assistant graduate manager of athletics. As assistant to the dean he performs a secondary (to his athletic responsibilities) role in the office of the dean of the College of Health, Physical Education and Recreation (of which the intercollegiate department is a part), working with matters of public and athletic relations as they impact on the College as a whole, and on other matters as assigned by Dean Robert Scannell.

From 1970 until the promotion to his present position, Tarman was assistant to the athletic director and director of athletic public relations. Before that he was Penn State's sports information director for 12 years.

Penn State's football radio network, which includes more than 40 stations throughout Pennsylvania and surrounding states, is one of the largest independent networks in the country.

Fran Fisher, special projects director for the University's Division of Broadcasting, is in his sixth year as play-by-play announcer. He had been color announcer for four years prior to taking over the play-by-play duties in 1970.

Jim Tarman, associate athletic director at Penn State, is the color announcer for the games. In addition to his on-the-air duties, Tarman serves as executive producer of the network for the athletic department.

The Fisher-Tarman team is a familiar one to Penn State football fans. They are co-hosts of "TV Quarterbacks," Penn State's weekly state-wide television show during the football season.

His more than 20 years of experience in radio and television include play-by-play and color coverage of many Penn State athletic events. He also has broadcast St. Vincent College football and basketball games and many high school events in the Lewistown and Greensburg areas.

IOWA, OHIO STATE ON CLOSED CIRCUIT TV

Penn State fans unable to attend the Nittany Lions' games at Ohio State and Iowa this fall will be able to watch those games live on closed circuit television.

The two games, Ohio State on Sept. 20 and Iowa on Sept. 27, will be televised on a large screen in Penn State's Recreation Building.

A package ticket, which will admit the holder to the telecasts of both games, is priced at $13 for the general public and $10 for Penn State students. All seats are unreserved.

Ticket orders should be sent to the Penn State Ticket Office, 237 Recreation Building, University Park, Pa. 16802. Mail orders should include $1 for mailing and handling charges.

The two closed circuit telecasts are being presented by the Penn State Athletic Department in cooperation with Total Communication Systems of Pittsburgh.

FUTURE SCHEDULES HAVE INTERSECTIONAL FLAVOR

Penn State's future football schedules have a definite intersectional flavor.

The Nittany Lions have added opponents from the Southeast, Southwest, Atlantic Coast and Big Eight Conferences to their schedules for the next five years.

"We have tried to get the best opponents we could," says Penn State athletic director Ed Czekaj, the man in charge of scheduling for the Lions. "We think we have very attractive schedules coming up."

Additions to the schedule for the next five years include Ohio State, Kentucky, Miami, Duke, SMU, TCU, Houston, Utah State, Texas A & M and Nebraska.

Should you desire additional information, services, or material, contact John Morris or Dave Baker at 203 Recreation Building, Pennsylvania State University, University Park, Pa. 16802. Telephone 814-865-1757.

When making requests for working press credentials, allow time for mailing. For late requests, tickets will be left with attendant at press gate directly behind west stands of Beaver Stadium. If telecopier or telephone service is required, please make necessary arrangements through Sports Comm or telephone office.

WORKING PRESS: Admittance to the Beaver Stadium press box will be limited to the working press only. Press box passes are marked with row and seat numbers and assignments will be made upon receipt of request. One permanent booth will always be occupied by the Penn State Football Network. Another of the remaining permanent booths will be assigned to the visiting team's official station. For comfort, announcing crews should be limited to four persons plus one spotter for each team. Opponent stations should indicate when requesting credentials whether or not they will require a spotter for the Penn State team.

TELEVISION: Penn State's "live" television appearances are designated by the NCAA Television Committee and facilities will be assigned in accordance with NCAA approval.

PHOTOGRAPHERS: Press photographers will be assigned press box or sideline credentials or both, depending on requirements. Field passes are normally limited to daily newspaper, wire service, and magazine photographers. Field photographers must not stand in front of spectators or pass in front of players' benches and are not permitted to enter the stands except with special permission. The "press box photo" pass allows the photographer to work on the top of the press box, or in any of the enclosed areas of the third deck of the press box specifically designated for photographers. The same rules apply to newsreel photographers. Camera crews making the coaching films for the opponent school will be limited to three persons.
